Welcome to Villas by Eco Hotels

Where Nature Heals, Stories Unfold, and Horizons Inspire

Just 1 hour and 45 minutes from Buendia Makati via the Skyway on-ramp, and only 45 minutes from Tagaytay City, lies a serene sanctuary with a soul- Villas by Eco Hotels. Set on the highlands of Mataasnakahoy, Batangas, this 2-hectare estate offers an uninterrupted 180-degree view of Taal Lake and Volcano with Mt. Maculot standing guard to the southwest.

This place was once the cherished second home of Fortunato and Milagros Cruz, both accountants who found solace in the calm of its breathtaking scenery. A refuge from the everyday, it became their magical escape- where fireflies glimmered at night, birds danced on the ledges, and peace settled like morning mist. Eco Hotels came in, not to reinvent, but to preserve and share its magic.

We've kept its soul. And now, we invite you to create your own stories here.

The Transformation

Eco Hotels made thoughtful renovations- enhancing airflow, maximizing natural light, and embracing the views from every room. We opened up windows to frame the stunning landscape and installed on-grid solar power. Many of the furniture you see today belonged to the Cruz family- lovingly refurbished and upcycled to retain its charm while reducing waste.

A Natural Show: Every Day, Every Night

Here, sunsets are an event. The earliest light begins to fade at 5:24 PM and the latest at 6:27 PM, casting the lake and volcano in hues of gold, orange, pink, and purple. At night, the stars come alive in an unobstructed sky. The air cools, birds settle in, and our free-roaming chickens return to their coops. The bird sanctuary is just below the lake to the southwest, or left of your rooms when facing the lake.

Facilities with a Purpose

Reclaimed & Sustainable Wood	Bed frames, counters, and other furnishings are crafted from reclaimed or sustainably sourced wood, giving materials a second life while reducing environmental impact.
Earthing Spaces	Pebbles, natural stones, soil, and grass are incorporated throughout the property to encourage earthing (grounding). We invite guests to walk barefoot and reconnect with nature.
Solar Energy	Our property is powered by an on-grid solar energy system, reducing our carbon footprint. A backup generator is available during power interruptions to ensure guest comfort.
Natural Cooling Design	Buildings are designed with natural ventilation and traditional cogon roofing to keep interiors cool while minimizing energy consumption.
Upcycled & Recycled Décor	Many of our furniture pieces and decorative elements are upcycled or made from recycled materials, demonstrating that sustainability and beautiful design can coexist.
Farm-to-Table Dining	Fresh ingredients are sourced from our Bahay Farms and nearby local communities, supporting local farmers and reducing food miles. These are served at our Bahay Baluk-Baluk Restaurant "Pavilion" and "Marahuyo".
No Traditional Front Desk	Instead of a conventional reception area, we welcome guests personally through our Cast Members, creating a warm, genuine, and more meaningful hospitality experience from the moment you arrive.

Rooms with a View

Our 5 villa-type structures house 9 Lakeview Rooms, each 30–35 sqm with its own bathrooms, verandas, and space for an extra bed. Wake up to the call of kingfishers and egrets or sip your coffee while watching the sunrise.

Dining Experiences

Bahay Baluk-Baluk Restaurant "Marahuyo"

A Gem at Villas by Eco Hotels

Marahuyo or enchanting- a destination in itself. Come Home to the Magic

Let the scent of lemongrass, the hush of the lake, and the colors of the sunset soothe you. Whether you're here for a quiet retreat, a joyous celebration, or just to be still for a while- Villas by Eco Hotels in Mataasnakahoy, Batangas is a place you'll always want to return to.

HOT AND COLD SHOWER Feel the comfort of a hot and cold shower in all our rooms, powered by single-point water heaters- an energy-efficient choice ideal for our eco-conscious operations. Sourced from a deep community well, our water is precious- please help us conserve it.

NON-SMOKING HOTEL We breathe better here. All Eco Hotels are smoke-free zones, but if you must, we've provided a scenic outdoor smoking spot beside the Jesus Christ statue- a heartfelt remnant from the Cruz family. Smoking inside the rooms carries a hefty cleaning fee to restore the freshness we work hard to maintain.

PETS We love your furry friends as much as you do! Pets are welcome with a small fee, and must be registered at check-in. Please guide them to do their business only on grassy areas and clean up after them- this helps keep our grounds fresh and beautiful for everyone. Soiled linens will require extra cleaning, so please help us care for the space.

SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES Your peace of mind matters. Each room has a safety deposit box for your valuables. Villas by Eco Hotels cannot be held responsible for items left unsecured.

WASTE DISPOSAL Join us in reducing waste. Each room has two bins:

- Nabubulok (biodegradable): for compostable waste like tissue, paper, and food scraps.
- Di-nabubulok (non-biodegradable): for recyclables like plastic wrappers. For bottles- place them beside the bin- we transform them into many useable things.

SLEEP WELL: A CURATED NIGHT'S REST We believe in crafting the perfect sleep environment:

1. Mattresses: A firm base with a plush topper, tested to give you the best sleep.
2. Bedding: 300-thread count cotton sheets- soft, breathable, and always all-white for sensory calm.
3. Scent Therapy: Our signature lemongrass-scented amenities invite your senses to unwind.
4. Cool Comfort: Rooms have inverter air-conditioners, but our cool natural climate might be all you need.
5. You First: Snoring distractions? Time to prioritize your sleep and space.
6. Lights Out: Total darkness = total rest. Ditch the nightlights and screen glow.
7. Warm Feet: Studies say socks help you sleep better. Try it!

Less Is More: Sleepwear optional. Comfort essential

The Features

Taal Volcano Protected Landscape & Taal Lake	Our breathtaking view is part of a protected landscape managed by the Protected Area Management Board (PAMB). We proudly support the preservation of one of the Philippines' most iconic natural wonders while providing guests with an unforgettable lakeside experience.
Nature, Sunsets & Relaxation	Facing west, our estate offers spectacular sunsets over Taal Lake. Mornings are perfect for outdoor activities and fresh mountain air, while afternoons are ideal for relaxing and enjoying the changing colors of the sky.
Yoga	Every guest room includes a yoga mat, allowing you to practice anywhere on the property. Let nature become your studio. Ask our Cast Members about scheduled group yoga sessions.
Swimming & Sun Loungers	Cool off in the salt water swimming pool, lounge beneath the trees, or simply relax while taking in the panoramic views. Sometimes, doing nothing is the best way to recharge.
Photography & Birdwatching	The nearby Tagbakin Bird Sanctuary makes our property an excellent location for birdwatching and photography. Common sightings include Swiftlets, White-collared Kingfishers, Brahminy Kites, Pacific Swallows, Black-crowned Night Herons, Purple Herons, and many other species. The best viewing times are at sunrise and sunset.
The Bahay Farms - Farming Terraces & Chicken Coop	Explore our gardens where we grow fresh vegetables, herbs, fruits, and other produce used throughout the property. Meet our free-ranging chickens and discover sustainable farming practices. Inquire about our Farm Tour for in-house guests.
The Bahay Farms - Composting Area	Learn how biodegradable waste is transformed into nutrient-rich organic compost, supporting our gardens and demonstrating our commitment to a circular, zero-waste system.

The Bahay Farms -The Hand of God	Built after the Taal eruption and during the COVID-19 pandemic, this inspiring installation symbolizes faith, hope, resilience, and gratitude.
The Bahay Farms - Duyan (Recycled Tire Swings)	Relax on handcrafted swings made from recycled tires- an enjoyable reminder that sustainability can also create moments of fun, reflection, and joy.

Don't forget to check out our farm-to-table goodies at Bahay Baluk-Baluk Restaurant: bottled saba vinegar, homemade chutneys, sauces, and fresh fruit ice cream.

P.S. Sunblock and insect repellent are your best friends here. Reapply throughout the day!

DISCOVERING MATAASNAKAHOY Mataasnakahoy- a name that means "high trees"- was carved out from Lipa post the massive 1754 eruption of Taal Volcano. With just 2,376 hectares of hilly terrain, this quiet town faces Taal Lake directly opposite Tagaytay.

Despite being 9 km from the volcano island, Mataasnakahoy remains underdeveloped- a hidden gem waiting to be explored. Protected by DENR due to its biodiversity, the area is home to bird sanctuaries, endemic species, and lush forests.

Infrastructure is a work in progress. Power outages and limited water are part of life here, but it's all part of the charm- a return to nature, simplicity, and sustainability.

Eco Hotel Properties

Containers by Eco Hotels Tagaytay

Located in SVD Road Tagaytay, is an abode which concept greatly differs from the usual hotels. Simply put, the business model is based on the hotel's deeply ingrained eco-principle to reduce, reuse, recycle, redesign and renew.

Containers have long been repurposed as a space for human activity. The evolution of container reuse extended further to lodgings after realizing its inherent strength, vast availability, and considerable low cost, all supporting eco-friendliness.

Containers are designed to be almost indestructible. They use Corten steel which is a very thick, strong, and durable metal. By installing proper wall and ceiling insulation plus a concrete roof deck at the top floor, combined with passive cooling and excellent cross ventilation, with the option of air-conditioning, our container rooms are very comfortable and as cozy as any other hotel room.

A stay in Containers by Eco Hotel will be an eye opener of the boundless impact a little effort can do in saving the environment.

Cabins by Eco Hotels Tagaytay

Located across Ayala Serin Mall in Aguinaldo Highway, Eco Hotel Tagaytay is the first Eco Hotel property housing 16 tiny cabin-like rooms. Room rates are made affordable considering the great view of Taal Lake, and the volcano which Tagaytay is known for, and is seen from some of our rooms. Cabins by Eco Hotel is configured to provide soothing comfort in a compact and functional space that resembles a "ship cabin". All rooms are eco-chic in design with beds covered in clean, high thread count sheets and enclosed in walls of sustainable farmed pine wood. Our façade and interiors showcase upcycled materials and repurposed furniture that otherwise end up as trash.

We are a pet-friendly hotel and welcome furry pets up to 25 pounds, subject to a pet fee of P500 per pet per night.

Suites by Eco Hotels | Dormitelsph by Eco Hotels

Pops District El Nido Palawan

Located in Pops District in Barangay Corong Corong, Suites by Eco Hotel and Dormitels by Eco Hotel El Nido is just over a kilometer away from the congested town proper and faces the breathtaking scenery of Corong Corong Bay. Corong Corong Bay is where boats get off and back to the mainland for the Island-Hopping Tours. Pops District, is where Eco Hotel is located and is in a commercial walking street with access to the sea from the highway, lined with travel and tour booking offices, restaurants, bars and retail outlets.

Eco Hotel is built green, from the ground up. It features a sustainable design, and our Cast Members apply waste reduction practices whenever and wherever possible.

It is a rustic, eco green hotel in El Nido with rooms showcasing native crafts, home-made bricks, felled tree furnishings, upcycled resources and repurposed materials.

El Nido is famous for the pristine island beaches, secret beaches and coves, reachable by bangka (outrigger boat). For the active adventurer, inter-island kayaking may be a fulfilling option. For those who simply want to chill and take all of the beauty in, island tour options with "fresh catch of the day" grilled lunch may be easily arranged.

Kaliraya Surf Kamp by Eco Hotels

Caliraya Lake, Cavinti Laguna

In 1983, Kaliraya Surf Kamp was born. It was a Nudist lakeside colony patronized by Europeans back in the day, specifically by the German tourists (that is why "K"amp is spelled with a K). Windsurfing was introduced thereafter- the first windsurfing destination in the Philippines, and so the name Kaliraya Surf Kamp. Now, it is the 3 hectare premiere lakeside camping escape just two and a half hour drive from Metro Manila. Eco Hotel has built 21 tiny houses from container vans and a Lake House for accommodations. Camping, kayaking, stand-up paddle boarding, jet ski, biking and running on trail are some of the activities one can enjoy at Kaliraya Surf Kamp by Eco Hotesl. Caliraya Lake is a man-made mountain lake complete with coves and sand bars that we could boast internationally. The area enjoys a similar climate as Tagaytay, as it is 1200 feet above sea level.

Dormitelsph by Eco Hotels

Pops District Cloud 9 General Luna Siargao

The best-known surfing spot in Siargao is called Cloud 9, to which General Luna (GL) town owes its surfing legacy. Cloud 9 is world-famous for its thick, hollow tubes and fast-barreling right-hand waves that break over a reef. A wooden boardwalk was built for the hundreds of spectators, judges, VIPs, tourists, non-surfers, competitors and photographers, in the first Siargao International Surfing Cup in 2014. Dormitelsph by Eco Hotels is located on Cloud 9.
